

Frontline Worker Survey 2019 -Executive Summary "The most extensive survey of frontline workers supporting people experiencing homelessness across the UK". CC

Published Summer 2020 St Martin's Frontline Network

Frontline Worker Survey 2019

The Frontline Worker Survey 2019 is the most extensive survey of frontline staff working with people across the UK. 1,435 frontline workers responded to this year's survey, between 4th November and the 26th November 2019.

Our report highlights the importance of listening to frontline workers when considering responses to homelessness. Read our full report today: www.frontlinenetwork.org.uk thought that it was difficult or very difficult to access specialist accommodation for the people they support.

Access to Accommodation

of frontline workers found it difficult/ very difficult to find private landlords willing to let to LHA claimants.

"Finding good landlords who will rent to LHA tenants is difficult, and the top up rent above the LHA make most of these properties prohibitive". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

Access to Support Services of frontline workers felt it has become harder/much harder to access mental health support services for people experiencing homelessness in the past year.

of frontline workers found it harder/much harder to access Government provided emergency/in-crisis grants: i.e. cash.

"Access to mental health services remains the biggest problem, especially those with dual diagnosis". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

"Multi-agency working is the key to achieve positive outcomes". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

Access to Healthcare of frontline workers said it was difficult/very difficult to access health services for their clients.

Frontline Worker Wellbeing

Frontline workers in the United Kingdom

29.8 cases

at one time.

have on average

of frontline workers felt their wellbeing has been slightly or very negatively impacted by their role as a frontline worker.

95% of frontline workers believe being valued by their employer is extremely or very important. However, just 59% believe they are valued by their employer.

"Being appreciated for the work we do, for all the years of experience we bring to the role, feel encouraged and thanked for our hard work". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

"Boundaried working, good time management, not taking it home in my mind". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

Universal Credit

91%

94%

56%

of frontline workers said the individuals they support had been negatively or very negatively affected by Universal Credit.

of frontline workers have had difficulty supporting someone with no income until the first UC payment.

of frontline workers said they have supported someone who has experienced homelessness because of a benefits sanction.

"Building relationships over the last 4 years has significantly reduced the issues most experience with UC and the job centre". (Frontline Worker, 2019)

Migrant Homelessness Support of frontline workers supported someone who has experienced 46% homelessness because of their immigration status. Having enough time to do your job effectively:

98% of frontline workers feel it is extremely or very important.

However, only 37%

agree or strongly agree that they had enough time to do their job effectively.

About the Frontline Network

We believe many practical solutions – and systemic barriers – to preventing homelessness can be identified and overcome on the frontline. That is why in 2016 the St Martin-in-the-Fields Charity set up the Frontline Network.

Our work aims to build relationships, share best practice, develop solutions, and communicate the experience and views of frontline workers.

For more information about how we work at the Frontline Network, visit our website today: www.frontlinenetwork.org.uk

Who do frontline workers support?

We define 'frontline worker' as a paid worker, who directly supports people who are experiencing homelessness.

This includes those working in the Voluntary, Statutory, and Public sectors. Frontline Workers responding to this survey work in roles including outreach, housing, social work, and probation.

Please find below the groups of people frontline workers most often support:

94.78% People experiencing mental ill health
93.24% People with substance misuse issues
91.15% People with multiple/complex needs
91.01% Women
89.41% Men
88.99% People in contact with the criminal justice system
87.04% Current and/or former rough sleepers
86.55% Survivors of domestic abuse
85.58% People with a learning disability
82.93% LGBTQ+
82.51% People with a physical disability
82.37% People with dual diagnosis
78.40% People with an autistic spectrum condition
74.85% Young people
73.38% Care leavers
70.87% Veterans / Ex-services personnel
70.73% Refugees
70.04% Roma / Gypsy / Travellers
71.01% People with a sensory disability
69.97% Migrants with Recourse to Public Funds
66.20% Asylum Seekers
65.86% BAME
61.68% Migrants without Recourse to Public Funds
48.71% Other (please specify)

Frontline Network, St Martin-in-the-Fields Charity 5 St Martin's Place, Trafalgar Square WC2N 4JJ

☑ frontline@stmartinscharity.org.uk frontlinenetwork.org.uk
✓ @SMITF_frontline

